Tonight's Game

The Tigers will be fighting for the CIC runner-up spot against tonight's foes, the St. Benedict's Ravens. As the league race stands now Pittsburg State, the nation's leading unbeaten team, is on top with three conference wins. In all games played this year Pittsburg has a 7-0 record—the best in the country. St. Benedict's is currently in the number two position with a 2-1 league total. Fort Hays State and Emporia State are tied for third with 1-1 records. Washburn is fifth with a 1-2 total and Southwestern is in the cellar with 0-3 in conference play. Emporia and Fort Hays are a game behind league rivals because of last week's cancellation of the Fort Hays State Homecoming contest between the two schools. Elsewhere in the conference this weekend Pittsburg played Emporia State at Emporia this afternoon and Washburn met Southwestern in Winfield last night.

The Tiger gridmen, still battling the flu this week, are rated as underdogs in this evening's contest. But the Tigers are anxious to knock off the highly-touted St. Benedict's eleven whose only loss this season was to league-leading Pittsburg State, 14-17. With flu cases still occurring in his squad, Tiger coach Wayne McConnell said earlier this week that he would not know definitely who he could start until game time. He said that he would field only those men who are sufficiently recovered.

In a 20-game series with the Ravens—dating back to 1934—the Tigers have won only five contests while losing twelve and tying three.

Going into this week, the CIC standings read:

	W	L	T	Pct.
Pittsburg .....	3	0	0	1.000
St. Benedict's .....	2	1	0	.667
Fort Hays .....	1	1	0	.500
Emporia .....	1	1	0	.500
Washburn .....	1	2	0	.333
Southwestern .....	0	3	0	.000

St. Benedict's Ravens

The Ravens' head grid coach Ivan Schottel (upper left) is in his fifth season at St. Benedict's. He has brought two league crowns to the school in his four seasons there. Last fall he won the "Coach of the Year" award in Kansas after guiding his squad to the CIC title. St. Benedict's line coach is Ralph Nolan, a 1939 graduate of the school. Nolan is also athletic director and head basketball coach.

All-CIC halfback Jerry Mohlman (lower left) and Raven guard Jack Huml have been guiding their team's attack this year as co-captains of the rugged St. Benedict's squad. Mohlman, Seneca senior, stands 6-foot, weighs 185. Huml, senior from Lake Geneva, Wisc., is 5-10 and weighs 170.

St. Benedict's Ravens

Four lettermen at the end positions give Coach Ivan Schottel strength on the flanks this fall. Bill Tyrka (upper left), Jersey City, N. J., senior with three letters, has good dimensions: 194 lbs., and 6-1. His counterpart on the right side of the line is Francis Leikam (upper right), Hays sophomore, who weighs 200 lbs. and stands 5-11.

Pressing these two men closely for the honor of starting the game are Tom Waller (lower left), Seneca junior, and Emmett Rottinghaus, St. Benedict senior. Waller has 6-2 height and a weight of 185 lbs., and Rottinghaus stands 6-3, weighs 185.

St. Benedict's Ravens

Hebbed by injuries in the early part of the season, George Tardiff, Jersey City, N. J., junior tackle (upper left), is expected to start tonight. Another starter is the durable little field general, Mark Flynn, Atchison junior, (right), who will match wits and throwing ability with Jim Hooten, Tiger signal caller.

At lower left is Ed Oswald, Topeka junior and a veteran at tackle, who will likely see much action this evening. Gene Schultz, lower right, a sophomore from Des Moines, Ia., has been doing a Jekyll-Hyde act between end and tackle this fall. Very good at either spot, he is expected to bolster Raven tackle operations tonight.

Programs for the 1957 football season have been donated to the college by the Hays Seven-Up Bottling Company. By making this donation and by your purchase of this program two athletes are earning money to attend school and at least one athlete will receive a scholarship to Fort Hays State.

BASKETBALL IS ON THE WAY

Basketball practice is already underway for the Tiger cagers for a 19-game slate which starts December 5 when Fort Hays State meets Southwestern Oklahoma in Sheridan coliseum. A complete schedule is printed on the preceding page.

A new feature of the Tigers' home season this year is a four-team tournament December 30 and 31. Fort Hays State will entertain Eastern New Mexico university, Southwestern college of Winfield and Southwestern Oklahoma State college. In regular season play the Tigers will meet, besides CIC competition, North Dakota university, Colorado college, Phillips university, Colorado State college and Omaha university.

Athletic director Paul "Busch" Gross is working with a squad of 45 cagers until head basketball coach Cade Suran is able to assume regular instructing and coaching duties. Suran is recuperating from a recent operation. Only one regular starter is back from last season—Bill Ehlers, a senior from St. Joseph, Mo. Ehlers led the Tigers in field goal shooting percentage last season with 42 per cent. The 6-4 forward averaged ten points a game and pulled down 75 rebounds.

Alton senior Douglass Holloway saw a lot of action last year and led the team in free throw shooting. He converted 81 per cent from the foul strip. The 5-11 veteran averaged almost seven points per game. Junior guard Ray Eaton was plagued by injuries last season and missed some games but still averaged almost six points per game. The 6-1 sharp-shooter from Ellis was the fifth best rebounder on last year's squad. A steady veteran is Russell junior Gene Dawson back for another year of competition and sure to see a lot of action this season. The 5-11 guard hit 75 per cent of his free throws last year.
